

A vibrant, childlike illustration depicting a girl with blonde, curly hair and large blue eyes, wearing a pink dress and a large, flowing red cape. She is shown in a flying pose against a dark, textured night sky. Surrounding her are several fantastical flying creatures: a large blue and white striped bird-like creature with a green eye, a blue and white striped bird with a yellow beak, and several white, winged figures. The background also features faint, white line drawings of various flying creatures. At the bottom of the image, a colorful cityscape is visible, including a tent with a blue and yellow striped canopy, a brown bear, a pink building with a yellow dome, and a red and white striped building with the word 'ШАР' (SHAR) written on it. The overall style is whimsical and imaginative, typical of children's art.
